

EXTRA CURRICULAR ELIGIBILITY

High School and Junior High

MHSA rules pertinent to grade eligibility will be followed at all times and apply to all extra-curricular activities for the duration of the school year. In addition, the following eligibility rules will apply for each extra-curricular activity for RHS students in grades 9-12.

High School – Grades will be checked each semester for students who wish to participate or are participating in extra-curricular activities. Any student who fails one or more classes for the semester will be ineligible until a grade check at the end of the next quarter. If all grades are passing at the end of the next quarter, the student will be eligible to resume participation.

Transfer students will use their grades at the time of enrollment to determine eligibility. A student may take an alternative course or summer class to replace a failing grade if pre-approved by the administration.

Junior High – Junior High eligibility will be checked every two weeks, starting at the beginning of each season. Each student that is failing a class will be placed on academic probation.

- 1) Academic probation means the student may practice and play in home games and games on Saturday. Students who are failing may not miss school to attend an activity until their grades are all passing.
- 2) The student must seek and receive help in the class or classes he/she is failing. During lunch and/or Time to Teach the student will be required to meet with the teacher whose class they are failing. The student may also need to meet with the teacher before or after school for extra help. The student will continue this program until the end of the quarter or until all grades are passing. If the student fails to meet these requirements they are ineligible for the activity that week.
